A message from the President

STACEY HIGDON

PRESIDENT 2024-2025

Dear Members and Supporters,

The Junior League of Greenwich remains a vital force in our community, developing women to do a world of good—and the 2024–2025 Junior League year was no exception. This year marked the culmination of our 65th anniversary of service in Greenwich, offering us the opportunity to reflect on our legacy, honor the roots of our mission, and use those lessons to build an even stronger future.

We placed a renewed emphasis on our core mission: training women to become effective civic leaders. We increased the number of training opportunities available to our members—and opened many of them to the broader community. This commitment reached new heights with the launch of our inaugural Women’s Conference, featuring keynote speaker Lisa Whelchel and a powerful panel discussion on women’s health. It was an inspiring day that brought together women across Greenwich in learning, growth, and connection.

We also deepened our relationships with community partners by aligning our volunteer efforts with our focus area of youth wellness and education. Our members contributed to numerous initiatives throughout the year, including the 18th year of Positively Me!, our signature self-esteem program for third grade girls. We also created and adopted a new three-year strategic plan and modernized our financial systems, helping us operate more efficiently and plan for the League’s long-term success.

Whether through large-scale events or smaller acts of service, our members strive to make a difference in meaningful ways throughout Greenwich. None of this would be possible without the generosity and dedication of our members, donors, and supporters. With your support, we’re building a stronger, more connected community.

With gratitude,
Stacey Higdon
President, 2024–2025

FIND THE GOOD DAY

Created by the Association of Junior Leagues International (AJLI), Find the Good Day is an annual event encouraging individuals, families, and organizations to unite as changemakers. It's a day dedicated to spreading kindness, uplifting others, and inspiring hope through collective action.

Members, made, wrapped, and delivered 300 Sandwiches

On September 19, 2024, the JLG celebrated its first Find the Good Day with two meaningful service projects. Members made 300 sandwiches for children in afterschool programs at Barbara's House, Kids in Crisis, and the Boys and Girls Club. They also assembled 60 hygiene backpacks for children arriving at Kids in Crisis. That evening, over 60 members gathered for our GMM as First Selectman Fred Camillo presented a proclamation honoring both Find the Good Day and JLG's 65th anniversary. (cover photo)

PROJECT IMPACT

Project Impact Committee

Project Impact is the committee that creates hands-on volunteer opportunities for our members, supporting our focus area of Youth Wellness and Education. This year, we changed our approach to follow a model used by other Junior Leagues. Instead of creating our own programs and inviting families to come to us, we now bring our volunteers and content to organizations that align with our focus area and are already serving these communities daily. This way, we can reach more people, offer more volunteer opportunities, support our partners, and reduce the pressure on our committee.

JLG LED PROJECTS

The Junior League of Greenwich hosted two sandwich-making events this year, preparing a total of 600 sandwiches for students in afterschool programs at the Boys & Girls Club, Barbara's House, and Kids in Crisis.

We also held two hygiene kit backpack events, donating 120 backpacks to children arriving at Kids in Crisis. In addition, we organized two successful drives—collecting 104 bras for The Undies Project and 1,450 diapers for Mothers for Others. To support local teens, we also purchased hygiene products for the student pantry at GHS.

PARTNERSHIP PROJECTS

We partnered with Barbara's House to help children bake, price, and run a bake sale at Town Hall over winter break. We also offered a craft table at their summer family barbecue. With Family Centers, our members, including artist and League member Bretton Bowne, led an after-school art project for children at New Lebanon School. Through Mothers for Others, we staffed three diaper distribution days, providing thousands of diapers to families in need. With Neighbor to Neighbor, we sent a group of volunteers biweekly to support their food pantry.

LEGACY PROJECTS

THE DEN FOR GRIEVING KIDS

The Junior League of Greenwich recently completed a meaningful project by donating a custom bookshelf filled with teddy bears and age-appropriate books about grief to The Den for Grieving Kids. This initiative was started by last year's New Member class to honor The Den's 30th anniversary. The Junior League originally founded The Den and managed the program for three years before transferring it to Family Centers, which continues to support children and families through this important work today. Now completed, the bookshelf offers comfort and resources to families attending meetings at The Den, creating a warm and welcoming space for children coping with loss.

PROJECT EXPLORATION

The Junior League of Greenwich is exploring our next big community project. This year, we began evaluating the potential to help clear and restore six acres of overgrown land on the Greenwich High School campus, at the corner of E. Putnam Avenue and Hillside Road.

Members toured the site with world-renowned landscape architect Eric Groft of Oehme van Sweden to understand the scope of the work. The area includes a natural stream and could become a peaceful outdoor space for students. A task force was formed by Stacey Higdon which began research and next year, we will bring back our Community Project Development Committee to continue exploring this project and consider other opportunities in Greenwich. We also continue to work with our Community Advisory Board of 20 other non-profits and Town Leaders to identify new opportunities.

POSITIVELY ME!

Positively Me! is one of the Junior League of Greenwich's most loved and impactful programs—for both our volunteers and the community. This year, the committee focused on reviewing and improving the curriculum to help the program reach more kids in more ways. While we held just one free weekend session this year, it welcomed 39 third-grade girls. We also brought parts of the program to Barbara's House (15 participants) and to the Boys & Girls Club of Greenwich, where 30 kids attended a special movie night that included Positively Me! lessons.

One of the most exciting additions to the program was a new team-building activity: creating a Rube Goldberg machine. In this hands-on challenge, the girls worked together to build a complicated machine that does a simple task. It quickly became a favorite, encouraging creativity, teamwork, and problem-solving.

*“This place is so fun!
The role play was the best.
I never want to leave!”*

The impact of Positively Me! also reached beyond Greenwich. This spring, the Junior League of Eastern Fairfield County launched the program. We hope to share the program with even more Leagues in the future.

COMMUNITY IMPACT

CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD RECIPIENT

Nora Stern, a 10th-grade student at Greenwich High School, is the 2025 recipient of the Junior League of Greenwich Community Service Award.

Since 1996, the Junior League has presented this annual award to a local high school girl who embodies the League's mission and demonstrates a significant and sustained commitment to volunteerism and leadership. Nora was selected for her remarkable initiative and impact at a young age.

Stacey Higdon, Nora Stern and Sammie Jacobs

As a freshman, Nora co-created and moderated the Learn Before You Leave event at the Greenwich Library, designed to educate college-bound students about safety risks during their first months on campus. The panel featured experts from Kids in Crisis, The Rowan Center, Fordham EMS, and UConn Police, drawing over 70 attendees for a powerful and practical discussion. Nora organized the event again this year and is committed to continuing the program in future.

She was honored at a reception at the Junior League of Greenwich Headquarters, where President Stacey Higdon and President-Elect Samuelle Jacobs presented the award. Nora plans to use the award to expand her important work in the community.

The Junior League of Greenwich hosted its annual Touch A Truck on May 18, 2025. The day began with VIP ticket entry and a reduced sensory experience before general admission opened at 10 a.m. Hundreds of families attended, enjoying the chance to explore construction, rescue, and commercial vehicles—complete with lots of honking! Our popular trackless train returned, along with food trucks and live entertainment, making it a fun-filled day for all. As with all of our events, the Junior League offer free tickets to families served by our community partners.

New Member Class

This year, the Junior League of Greenwich welcomed 28 new members as part of its New Member class. For the first time, the League introduced a new cohort model, grouping members based on their availability during the day or evening. Each cohort completed eight hours of classroom training, followed by immediate committee placement to provide hands-on experience. This replaced the traditional new member project and allowed members to integrate more quickly into the broader League community. It also offered timely support to committees that benefited from additional member engagement.

The success of this approach has led to plans for a continued cohort structure, including the introduction of a summer cohort this year. Another change going forward is that the New Member Committee will now be led by the Membership Director, with each cohort assigned a dedicated Training Lead. There are five Training Leads in total—all past presidents of the League. In addition to providing the classroom instruction, each Training Lead will serve as a mentor to their cohort throughout the remainder of the year, supporting them through their placements and helping to foster a deeper connection to the League experience.

As part of the New Member class, the annual Road Rally was once again a highlight of the program. Sustainer members volunteered as drivers and guides, taking new members on a tour of the community to visit the sites of past Junior League projects. At each stop, sustainers shared the history and impact of these initiatives—such as Kids in Crisis—bringing the League’s legacy to life and helping new members understand the depth of its contributions to Greenwich. In order to adapt to the new cohort model the Road Rally will be moved from Fall to April next year.

Leadership Training

The Junior League of Greenwich places great pride in training and empowering our leaders. Members have access to multiple leadership development opportunities each year through Junior League networks.

ASSOCIATION OF JUNIOR LEAGUES INTERNATIONAL (AJLI)

Stacey Higdon, Sammie Jacobs, and Sara Davis attended the Annual Junior League Conference in May. There are 298 Junior Leagues around the world, with most sending delegates—including representatives from Nairobi, London, and Mexico. President-elect Sammie Jacobs also attended the Executive Leadership conference in the spring which is intended for incoming leaders.

SMALL LEAGUE BIG IMPACT (SLBI)

This year, JLG joined the Small Leagues Big Impact (SLBI) affinity group, which offers additional resources, support, and training outside the AJLI umbrella. SLBI held its own fall conference in Orlando, attended by Director at Large Jenifer Bloodsworth and Project Director Kelly Beyrer.

CONNECTICUT COUNCIL OF JUNIOR LEAGUES (CCJL)

JLG is also a member of the Connecticut Council of Junior Leagues. Each year, the presidents of the five Connecticut Leagues collaborate to host a shared opportunity for members. This year's gathering was a brunch in New Haven, where each League presented their work and a speaker from the Connecticut Diaper Bank highlighted critical needs across the state.

Member Training

JLG SKILLS AND LEADERSHIP TRAINING

This year, the Junior League of Greenwich offered more than 20 training opportunities to support our mission of developing women leaders. Several were designed to build skills specific to League work, including Financial Personality Types, Canva, Budgeting, Chair resources and Website Basics. In October, we hosted a special Past Project Round Robin, where each room in the JLG House was transformed by past project chairs. Members explored JLG legacy initiatives like Project Charlie, Environmental Education, and Kids in Crisis, hearing firsthand from the women who led them.

PUBLIC WORKSHOPS & PRACTICAL SKILLS

To support personal growth and connect with the wider community, the League also offered general interest trainings—many of which were open to the public. These included a Needlepoint Workshop, Bracelet Making, Paddle Lessons, and a Gingerbread House Workshop. We also hosted informative sessions on Estate Planning, Internet Risks & Exploitation, and Investment 101. The investment workshop was a standout success, drawing nearly 50 registrations—mostly non-members—and giving us an exciting opportunity to raise awareness of the League's mission across Greenwich.

COMMUNITY PARTNER EDUCATION

In addition to our formal training sessions, General Membership Meetings (GMMs) featured guest speakers from partner organizations working to meet real needs in our town. This year's speakers included representatives from Greenwich Together, Kids in Crisis, Mothers for Others, Undies Project and The Rowan Center. These presentations helped members better understand the challenges facing local families—and the impact our partnerships can have in addressing them.

Member Engagement

Membership Engagement and Training committee

Feedback Forums

The Junior League of Greenwich started the year with 110 Active and 360 Sustaining members. One of our key goals was to boost member engagement—and we succeeded! Our monthly General Membership Meetings (GMMs) attracted attendance levels not seen since before the pandemic, despite a smaller membership base. We kicked off the year with our lively September welcome-back GMM, “Bring Back Our Red!”. In December, members gathered at the JLG House for a festive Holiday Party celebrating global traditions, with support from our DEIB Committee. Other standout events that energized participation included the vibrant Mardi Bras GMM in March and the colorful Cinco de Mayo celebration in May.

SUSTAINER COUNCIL

SUSTAINER CHAIR JAMIE TYNDALL AND SUSTAINER CHAIR ELECT JOHNNA YESKEY

This year, our Sustainer Council Meetings reached recent record-high attendance—a wonderful sign of growing engagement. One of our main goals was to ensure Sustainers knew these meetings are open and welcoming to all, not just Council Members.

They serve as a valuable space to share what's happening across the entire League.

We also introduced a new meeting format, offering daytime gatherings with lunch included in addition to our traditional evening sessions. This change was very well received and helped make participation even more accessible and enjoyable.

ADVENTURES WITH SUSTAINERS

JOY PATAFIO AND BETH O'MALLEY

Adventures with Sustainers offered some exciting outings for members this year. We started the year touring the sculpture garden at PepsiCo and we kept going. To Manhattan, Brooklyn, Mt. Kisco and, of course, Greenwich. Every adventure was filled with fun and an inquisitive and dedicated group of women.

Sustainer Luncheon

The Annual Sustainer Luncheon was graciously hosted at Susan Bevan's beautiful home. It was a chance for Sustainers to reconnect after the summer, get a preview of the year ahead, and learn ways to stay engaged with the League.

Affinity Groups

This year, we introduced a new Affinity Group program to support membership engagement and create more opportunities for connection beyond committee work. The first two groups—PJ Playdates and Dinner Out—launched with strong participation and quickly became popular. Additional groups, including Working Women, Fitness, and an Emeritus Lunch Group, have also started to grow. These member-led groups have added a fun and flexible way for members to build community around shared interests.

Strategic Updates

Barbara Bollmeyer, Christian Templeman, and Stacey Higdon at Morgan Stanley Go Red Women in Leadership Event

INVESTMENT UPDATE

The Investment Committee made the decision to transition to a new investment advisor, Christian Templeman of Morgan Stanley. Chris brings deep experience working with over 200 nonprofits, including several nearby Junior Leagues. He has already proven to be a strong partner to our Fund Development team and offers valuable opportunities for our members. He hosts a Junior League breakfast that connects our finance leaders with other League finance managers, and through Morgan Stanley, we now have access to women's leadership events. His partnership not only supports our investments, and understands the uniqueness of our leadership turnover, but his involvement also provides meaningful training opportunities for our members.

STRATEGIC PLAN

We completed our new three-year strategic plan with guidance from Harvard Business School Community Partners of Connecticut. Members helped shape the plan by participating in feedback forums and small group discussions. As a result, key decisions included expanding our community focus from Youth Wellness and Education to also include Women, exploring the creation of a Teen Board, and working to right-size the League for long-term sustainability.

BEQUEST PROGRAM

The Junior League of Greenwich has begun exploring the development of a bequest program as a way to ensure long-term support for the League's mission and work. Led by Amanda Carino, Judy Holden, Debby Lash, and Karen Richard, the team conducted focus groups this year to better understand member interest and gather valuable input. These conversations helped lay the groundwork for a thoughtful and strategic approach. The team looks forward to continuing this work in the coming year as they explore the next steps in building a lasting legacy for the League.

System Updates

Donor Recognition Party hosted by the Fund Development Committee

TREASURER UPDATE

This year, the Junior League of Greenwich upgraded its financial systems by transitioning from QuickBooks Desktop to QuickBooks Online, allowing for direct bank integration and fewer manual entries. We also implemented Ramp, a new payment system that enables the use of virtual credit cards for projects and events. Ramp connects seamlessly with QuickBooks Online, making spending easier to track and budgets more accurate in real time. As an added benefit, the platform offers 1.5% cashback on all purchases.

DONOR MANAGEMENT

The Fund Development team transitioned to a new donor management software, Little Green Light, which will allow for improved tracking and organization of donor information. This upgrade supports the League's goal of building stronger, more personalized relationships with our supporters. Thanks to strong support from our membership and community, we surpassed our budgeted goals raising well over $50,000 for our 2024-25 Annual Fund.

WEBSITE UPDATE

In July, the Junior League of Greenwich transitioned to a new website and internal membership portal, marking a major step forward in modernizing the League's operations. The updated system offers improved automation, a more user-friendly experience, and enhanced features for both members and administrators. One of the most impactful upgrades is the option for members to cover credit card processing fees when making payments—an addition that has already saved the League thousands of dollars. The platform also streamlines many internal processes, reducing administrative time and helping the League operate more efficiently. Developed and maintained by the Association of Junior Leagues International (AJLI), the system is regularly updated with new tools and features to support League growth. As a result, JLG members now have access to a more dynamic and responsive platform that strengthens communication, simplifies event registration, and supports ongoing member engagement.

Headquarters Updates

Ribbon Cutting of Living Room Extension

In celebration of our 65th anniversary, the Junior League of Greenwich launched a Capital Fund campaign to enhance our headquarters. The centerpiece of the project was removing a wall to expand the Living Room, creating a more open and functional space. Thanks to the generosity of our members and supporters, the initiative raised over $25,000. The renovation also included refinishing the hardwood floors and painting the entire room. With additional updates still to come, the remaining funds will be used to refresh the furniture and complete the transformation. Fund Development held a donor recognition party this Spring for all donors who contributed to the 65th Anniversary Capital Fund Campaign.

We also completed much-needed repairs to Headquarters through a partnership with Easy Home Management. The exterior of the house and its trim were freshly repainted, and interior updates included new paint for the Board Room and Sustainer Room. In addition, we upgraded the lighting in the Board Room and addressed several necessary repairs throughout the building.

1959 LEGACY SOCIETY

Named for the year in which the Junior League of Greenwich was established, the 1959 Legacy Society honors those who make a lasting commitment to the JLG through a bequest or planned gift. If you've already included the League in your estate plans, please let us know - we would be honored to welcome you to the 1959 Legacy Society.

Empowering the next generation of leaders

"When I moved to Greenwich in 2010 as a young newlywed, I didn't know anyone and felt lonely. I stumbled across the JLG and joined this incredible group of women, and instantly felt a part of this new town. Joining the League was one of the best and most important decisions I've made."
Clarena McBeth, Past President of the Junior League of Greenwich

JLG Mothers & Daughters

Let your legacy reflect the life you've loved.

To learn more or to inform us of your planned gift, please contact the President of the Junior League at 203.869.1979 or president@jlgreenwich.org

Please consult with your financial advisor or estate planning attorney to determine the best option for your estate planning.
